Additional Comments (Non-Confidential)

23. Please make any additional comments that you wish to bring to the Council's attention about your experience and suitability for this judgeship.

I came to Alaska nearly ten years ago to work as a law clerk for the Honorable Michael A. MacDonald. What started out as a one-year clerkship has turned into a fulfilling career and a permanent home.

I have practiced before every level of court in Alaska, from district court to the Alaska Supreme Court, as well as the federal courts. My nearly five years as a trial attorney in the Fairbanks District Attorney's Office allowed me to gain valuable experience with the day-to-day operations of the trial courts and the realities of trial practice. I prosecuted cases at all stages of trial litigation, including initial charging decisions, grand jury presentments, motion practice, negotiating plea deals with opposing counsel, and trial work. I also handled select appeals, post-conviction relief matters, and habeas corpus petitions. From 2013 to 2016, I served as the district attorney's office representative on the Fairbanks Wellness Court. I was also privileged to travel beyond Fairbanks to litigate cases in other communities in the Interior and around the state, including in Nenana, Delta Junction, Tok, Nome, Kotzebue, and Utqiagvik. In 2014, I received an award from the Farthest North Alaska Peace Officers Association for Criminal Justice Professional of the Year.

Additional Comments (Continued)

In my time as an appellate attorney for the Office of Criminal Appeals, I represented the State of Alaska in appellate matters before the Alaska Court of Appeals, the Alaska Supreme Court, the United States District Court of Alaska, and the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. My professional duties included writing and filing briefs in cases on direct appeal, responding to petitions for hearing and petitions for review, and litigating habeas corpus matters in the federal courts. I also presented oral arguments before the Alaska Court of Appeals and Alaska Supreme Court, provided legal research and recommendations on proposed legislation and other emerging legal issues, and advised trial attorneys on how to respond to novel or complex legal questions in an effort to forestall reversible error at the trial court level. In 2018, I received an award from the State of Alaska, Department of Law, Criminal Division for Brief of the Year.

Coupled with my current position as a staff attorney for the court of appeals, this background gives me a well-rounded understanding of the criminal justice system in Alaska. I would be honored to serve the community of Fairbanks as a District Court or Superior Court judge.

Please leave this area blank

Date: October 30, 2020

I was born and raised in Massachusetts. Shortly after graduating from Temple University Beasley School of Law, I moved to Fairbanks in January 2011 to work as a law clerk for the Honorable Michael A. MacDonald. Despite arriving in Alaska in the coldest and darkest part of the year, I fell in love with the state and have made my home here ever since.

I joined the Fairbanks District Attorney's office in 2012, where I gained valuable experience as a trial attorney. In 2017, I transferred to the Office of Criminal Appeals in Anchorage. I moved back to Fairbanks in June 2020, where I now work as a staff attorney for the Alaska Court of Appeals.

Alaska has opened up a wide range of adventures and opportunities for me, and I look forward to continuing to grow in my career of public service here.
