Alaska Judicial Council Recommendation

Judge Carl Bauman, Superior Court, Kenai

Judicial Council Recommendation 2010

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. The Judicial Council finds Judge Bauman to be Qualified and recommends unanimously that the public vote "YES" to retain him as a superior court judge.

Judicial Council Evaluation

The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers/guardians ad litem, and child advocates about the judges on the ballot. Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's preemptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmance and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.

1. Please estimate your workload during your present term.

a) 40 % civil cases 50 % criminal cases 10 % court administrative work 100 % Total	b) 3 # of jury trials/year 9 # of non-jury trials/year 6 # of administrative appeals/year

The percentage allocations between civil cases, criminal cases, and administrative work are rough estimates. Administrative work includes various non-case specific meetings, clerical, reading case decisions, and a myriad of other details.

2. Please describe your participation on court/bar committees or other administrative activities during your current term of office.

The presiding superior court judge of the third judicial district allocated local Kenai Peninsula administrative duties among the three superior court judges in Kenai. I am the designated judicial liaison with the Kenai Clerk of Court and the Clerk's Office, principally for internal administrative matters.

I maintain my membership in the Family Law Section of the Alaska Bar Association although I can no longer be fairly characterized as an active participant.

I attended "judge school" in Reno in April 2008 for two weeks. In addition to reading the Alaska reported cases I read the judicial ethics materials circulated by Judge Jack Smith from the American Judicature Society and the Brennan Center at NYU Law School. I also routinely read the High Conflict Institute reports. I attend the new judge training conferences and the annual Spring and Fall judicial conferences.

3. Please assess, in one or two paragraphs, your judicial performance during your present term. Appropriate areas of comment could include: satisfaction with your judicial role, specific contributions to the judiciary or the field of law, increases in legal knowledge and judicial skills, or other measures of judicial abilities that you believe to be important.

My private law practice experience with criminal law matters, especially felonies, was quite limited. As a new judge I was challenged to learn the "language" of criminal law matters, let alone the statutory definitional distinctions and the many Court of Appeals, Alaska Supreme Court, and US Supreme Court decisions that bear on decisions in criminal law cases. I had very little experience with juvenile delinquency proceedings or with child in need of aid (CINA) cases. For a number of months I was essentially back in law school with a steep learning curve on criminal and CINA matters.

I very much enjoy being a superior court judge. Each day brings new matters and new challenges to correctly perceive and understand issues, arguments, nuances, and special situations. Making credibility decisions with regard to facts attested to by witnesses and parties is often required, including those who testify telephonically. I try to be patient, hear from both sides, and respect the parties and counsel.

One of the challenges has been developing an appreciation of the problems associated with alcohol and substance abuse -- the crimes, the effect on victims, the problems caused to spouses and families, and what is available, affordable, and effective as far as assessment and treatment. Developing insights and understanding of domestic violence, both as a crime and as a factor in custody disputes, has been another significant challenge.

I try to understand and appreciate the every day problems that people face on the Kenai Peninsula, including problems associated with cabin and tent living, seasonal work at fish processing plants, and the demands of commercial fishing. Those every day problems include the problems of the unemployed, the barely employed, the abused, the neglected, the indigents, those who live in Villages, those without running water, and those with cultural and language differences. Many people cannot afford a lawyer, and the courtroom can be intimidating. Every day problems include people and businesses who experience theft, vandalism, and injuries and death from criminal conduct. Every day problems also include the dangerous situations that police officers, probation officers, judicial service officers, and VSOs have to confront.

I cannot point to any specific contribution that I have made to the judiciary. One of my rulings in a criminal case is on appeal with regard to the need for a second Miranda warning. Rulings in civil cases are on appeal with regard to an air park subdivision, a challenge to the Kenai Borough sales tax, and a challenge to the Kenai Borough capital spending authority versus a limitation by initiative.

4. During your most recent term as a judge, have you:
- a) had a tax lien filed or other collection procedure instituted against you by federal, state, or local authorities? Yes No
 - b) been involved in a non-judicial capacity in any legal proceeding whether as a party or otherwise? Yes No
 - c) engaged in the practice of law (other than as a judge)? Yes No
 - d) held office in any political party? Yes No
 - e) held any other local state or federal office? Yes No
 - f) had any complaints, charges or grievances filed against you with the Alaska Commission on Judicial Conduct, the Alaska Bar Association, or with the Alaska Court System that resulted in public proceedings or sanctions? Yes No
5. If your answer to any of the questions above is "yes," please give full details, including dates, facts, case numbers and outcomes.

Following a separation in April 2007 I represented myself in a divorce proceeding from June 2007 through entry of a decree of divorce in July 2008 and through the initial post-divorce motions. The case was Bauman v. Bauman, 3AN-07-07866 CI. The outcome was a divorce, with a mediated settlement that includes long term alimony. After the first round of post-divorce motions, I retained counsel for further post-divorce proceedings.

I represented myself with regard to sale of the former family home in Anchorage (no litigation was involved other than the then pending divorce), and acquisition and sale of a residential residence in Wasilla (again, no litigation was required for either the purchase or the sale).

6. Please provide any other information which you believe would assist the Council in conducting its evaluations and in preparing its recommendations for the 2010 retention elections.

Through eclectic acquaintances across a broad spectrum of society, I have gained a few insights into what is likely to work or not work as far as common sense, practical solutions within the available legal framework. As an Alaska resident since 1973 I have personally experienced the effect of the larger economic forces on Alaskans. Through having been counsel in several extraordinarily large civil cases, I had the opportunity to study Territorial times in Alaska, the Constitutional Convention, and the development of natural resource, public land, mining, Native rights, royalty, production tax, corporate income tax, and environmental law since Statehood. I participated in the taking of hundreds of depositions of then present and former State of Alaska commissioners, directors, and key staff on tax, land, royalty, and tax issues. These experiences give me an appreciation of what the law is, and the forces and intentions that underlie how particular laws came to be.

The Judicial Council's Evaluation Process

State law requires the Judicial Council to evaluate each judge standing for retention, and to report its evaluations to the voters. The three surveys reported here are an important part of the Council's evaluations. The Council also considers survey ratings by jurors and court employees, public comments, and the ratings by the independent citizen volunteers at Alaska Judicial Observers. Along with the personal observations of the hundreds of people who had direct professional experience with the judge, the Council reviews any litigation involving the judge, conflict of interest records, public disciplinary files, and indicators of judicial performance such as appellate affirmances and reversals, and peremptory challenges and recusals. All of the evaluation information about the judge is on the Council's website at www.ajc.state.ak.us.
