Alaska Judicial Council Recommendation

Justice Dana A. Fabe, Alaska Supreme Court

Judicial Council Recommendation 2010

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. The Judicial Council finds Justice Fabe to be Qualified and recommends unanimously that the public vote "YES" to retain her as a supreme court justice.

Judicial Council Evaluation

The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers/guardians ad litem, and child advocates about the judges on the ballot. Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's preemptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmance and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.

Answer to Question No. 3:

I have found my work as a Supreme Court Justice to be intellectually challenging and rewarding. All facets of the job -- from deciding cases and writing opinions to performing administrative duties and judicial outreach -- have been fulfilling, and I believe that I have contributed something of value to each of these functions.

Deciding Cases: I spend the majority of my time working on the decisions of the court. I am always well prepared for oral arguments and law conferences, and I strive to decide each issue that comes before us fairly and with analytical rigor. We are presented with many difficult questions, and in listening to the views of my colleagues during our conferences, I almost always gain some new perspective on an issue. My organizational skills and my administrative and supervisory background have resulted in the efficient flow of work in our chambers. I work hard to be prompt in drafting my opinions and recommendations on petitions and in voting on the work of other justices.

Administrative Duties: I truly enjoyed the administrative duties involved during my two terms as Chief Justice. During both terms, I focused on outreach and problem-solving throughout the state. I initiated a program entitled “Meet Your Judges” during my first term and a program entitled “Open Court” during my second term. Both programs allowed me to travel to courts throughout the state and to collaborate with our justice system partners on issues of mutual concern. These Open Court forums allowed us to work on a wide variety of issues, ranging from streamlining court procedures in child protection cases to reducing delay in felony cases. I believe that I have a talent for administrative matters, and this part of the job has been particularly gratifying.

Community Outreach: One of the most wonderful aspects of this position has been the increased opportunity to work with the youth of our community. I have made presentations in dozens of elementary, middle, and high schools and have participated on community panels designed for young people on such topics as Equal Protection and Using Math in the Workplace. I have installed new members of the National Honor Society and have trained judges of the Anchorage Youth Court and conducted the installations of youth court attorneys around the state. Through such programs as the Color of Justice and Law Day, I have worked with many students in junior high and high school in a mentorship capacity. These opportunities have been among the most rewarding of my term in this position.

Answer to Question No. 6:

In addition to my work on court and bar committees, I have taken an active role in judicial outreach to the community. I have planned and coordinated the Alaska Court System's Law Day activities and participated in an effort to have all judicial officers statewide meet with students in classrooms and courtrooms. I have personally participated in a wide variety of projects with the Anchorage schools, including, for example, serving as keynote speaker for a National Honor Society installation at Goldenview Middle School; keynote speaker for a district-wide Math Experience conference for middle school girls; and Law Day speaker for many high school and middle school government classes, both in the classroom and in the courtroom.

I have also provided annual training to the Youth Court judges and conducted installations of new youth court attorneys in Anchorage, Kenai, and Homer.

I have spoken at many conferences including:

- › Panelist: National Association of Women Judges Annual Conferences in Philadelphia, Memphis, and Portland on topics ranging from the appellate review of administrative law decisions to re-entry programs for women in prison;
- › Presenter: Gender Equality in the Courts Panel at UAA, Criminal Justice Program;
- › Judge: Statewide Mock Trial Competition;
- › Keynote Address: Statewide Mock Trial Competition;
- › Keynote Address and Presenter: Statewide Youth Court Conferences (Fairbanks and Kenai);
- › Speaker: Alaska Chapter Federal Bar Association;
- › Panelist: National College on Judicial Conduct and Ethics on Impartiality in Judging;
- › Panelist: Civic Education Initiatives for Conference of Chief Justices Annual Conference;
- › Moderator: Conversation with Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, Alaska Bar Convention, Juneau, 2005;
- › Moderator: Conversation with Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Alaska Bar Convention, Anchorage, 2008;
- › Panelist: Alaska Municipal Attorneys Conference;

The Judicial Council's Evaluation Process

State law requires the Judicial Council to evaluate each judge standing for retention, and to report its evaluations to the voters. The surveys reported here are an important part of the Council's evaluations. The Council also considers survey ratings by court employees and public comments. Along with the personal observations of the hundreds of people who had direct professional experience with the judge, the Council reviews any litigation involving the judge, conflict of interest records, and public disciplinary files. All of the evaluation information about the judge is on the Council's website at www.ajc.state.ak.us.
