Alaska Judicial Council Recommendation

Judge Sharon A.S. Illsley, District Court, Kenai

Judicial Council Recommendation 2010

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. The Judicial Council finds Judge Illsley to be Qualified and recommends unanimously that the public vote "YES" to retain her as a district court judge.

Judicial Council Evaluation

The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers/guardians ad litem, and child advocates about the judges on the ballot. Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's preemptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmance and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.

Trial Judge 2010 Candidates for Judicial Retention

Name	Court

1. Please estimate your workload during your present term.

a) 45 % civil cases 55 % criminal cases 5 % court administrative work 100 % Total	b) 7 # of jury trials/year 50+ # of non-jury trials/year 0 # of administrative appeals/year

The majority of the cases I have included in "non-jury trials" are traffic/minor offense cases. Most of these trials involved only a law enforcement officer and the person who was cited. My "non-jury" trial workload has also included a few small claims cases and a very few civil and criminal cases. Since information on "Attorneys Involved" was being requested in the "non-jury" trial section of the questionnaire, I listed only cases that involved at least one attorney. The 5% "court administrative work" involved activities such as pulling files, copying search warrants and filling out court documents when required to do so.

2. Please describe your participation on court/bar committees or other administrative activities during your current term of office.

Believing that interaction outside the courtroom between the bar and the bench is important, I have worked to set up quarterly District Court Bar/Bench meetings. While some of these meetings have been better attended than others, overall the meetings have provided a good forum to discuss better ways of doing business and to gain perspective on issues that are of concern to local attorneys. I have also worked with most of the other Peninsula District Court judicial officers to have weekly telephone conferences. Even though the "weekly" does not always happen, all the telephone conferences that we have managed to coordinate have been very educational. While I am not certain that educational activities qualify as "administrative activities," I have attended the General Jurisdiction training at the Judicial College in Reno and all Judicial and "Newer Judges" conferences that were made available during my current term.

3. Please assess, in one or two paragraphs, your judicial performance during your present term. Appropriate areas of comment could include: satisfaction with your judicial role, specific contributions to the judiciary or the field of law, increases in legal knowledge and judicial skills, or other measures of judicial abilities that you believe to be important.

Before I joined the judiciary, I spent a lot of time in court as a litigant. The many hours that I worked primarily in Superior Court gave me a valuable opportunity to observe different judges at work. While I applied for both Superior and District court positions in Kenai, since being given the opportunity to serve as a District Court Judge, I have come to appreciate that there are many benefits to working in District Court. The importance of the issues to the litigants does not depend on the level of the court that is handling their case. For many people, District Court will be their only contact with the judicial system. This gives a District Court judge the ability to put a positive face on the judiciary for perhaps more citizens than any other judicial officer. While my past experience in Superior Court made me very comfortable in all Superior Court criminal matters, the same statutes and Rules of Evidence apply in District Court and, because I enjoy communicating with people, I appreciate the volume of District Court work. Having a law clerk and a judicial assistant would be wonderful but there are resources available for all judicial officers and the challenge of learning to work with what is available is one that I hope has made me better at my job. Certainly the hours I spent observing Superior Court judges when I worked as an advocate provided me with a variety of positive role models to emulate in my own judicial career. Mastering the statutes that apply primarily to District Court, including not only misdemeanor but also fish and game offenses as well as the traffic laws and small claims, has proven to be an exciting challenge. I regularly learn more about the civil statutes and rules. While I still have a lot to learn, I have learned a great deal since my appointment. For many years I have wanted to move to the judiciary and, had I not been appointed to my current position, I would now be working in the Kenai magistrate position that I accepted in approximately June of 2007. While I enjoyed my career as an advocate, I am finding that I enjoy the judicial role even more. I often find myself searching legal resources to resolve the issues presented. I cannot imagine a better job than one which not only allows but requires a constant expansion of knowledge. I hope that I have the opportunity to stay in my current position for many years.

4. During your most recent term as a judge, have you:
- a) had a tax lien filed or other collection procedure instituted against you by federal, state, or local authorities? Yes No
 - b) been involved in a non-judicial capacity in any legal proceeding whether as a party or otherwise? Yes No
 - c) engaged in the practice of law (other than as a judge)? Yes No
 - d) held office in any political party? Yes No
 - e) held any other local state or federal office? Yes No
 - f) had any complaints, charges or grievances filed against you with the Alaska Commission on Judicial Conduct, the Alaska Bar Association, or with the Alaska Court System that resulted in public proceedings or sanctions? Yes No

5. If your answer to any of the questions above is "yes," please give full details, including dates, facts, case numbers and outcomes.

6. Please provide any other information which you believe would assist the Council in conducting its evaluations and in preparing its recommendations for the 2010 retention elections.

My judicial career got off to a rocky start when I crashed my motorcycle on July 21, 2007. I have recovered from the serious injuries that I sustained and I have been fortunate enough to have been assisted by medical professionals who helped me with improving my overall health. Nonetheless, I was away from work for quite a bit of time in late 2007 and it took a while after I returned in 2008 to get fully back on track. Some of the comments on the interim judicial survey may have been reflective of my performance shortly after I returned to work. Hopefully the comments on the retention survey will be based on my more recent performance.

The Judicial Council's Evaluation Process

State law requires the Judicial Council to evaluate each judge standing for retention, and to report its evaluations to the voters. The three surveys reported here are an important part of the Council's evaluations. The Council also considers survey ratings by jurors and court employees, public comments, and the ratings by the independent citizen volunteers at Alaska Judicial Observers. Along with the personal observations of the hundreds of people who had direct professional experience with the judge, the Council reviews any litigation involving the judge, conflict of interest records, public disciplinary files, and indicators of judicial performance such as appellate affirmances and reversals, and peremptory challenges and recusals. All of the evaluation information about the judge is on the Council's website at www.ajc.state.ak.us.
