I am a member of the Supreme Court's Fairness, Diversity & Equality committee. I am a Judge Trainee and back-up Judge for the Mental Health Court under the direct mentorship of Judge Stephanie Rhoades. I am involved with Anchorage Youth Court as the teacher of their three-day summer class and I preside over their swearing in ceremony. I attended the General Jurisdiction Course at the National Judicial College in Reno for two weeks. Appropriate areas of comment could include: satisfaction with your judicial role, specific contributions to the judiciary or the field of law, increases in legal knowledge and judicial skills, or other measures of judicial abilities that you believe to be important.

I have enjoyed every minute of my 14 months on the bench. I am very satisfied with job duties, responsibilities and experiences. The work is constant and I have adapted to the rhythm of the Anchorage District Court marked by the high volume of cases and pre-set daily hearings. The collegial community is awesome. The support of other judges has been priceless.

I have made contributions to the judiciary and the legal field through teaching the Anchorage Youth Court (AYC) law classes and hosting AYC students at the court house to view hearings and engage in mock trials. I also participated in all three days of the Court System's Color of Justice Program as a mentor and presenter. I continue to provide input on fairness and equal access on the Supreme Court's Fairness, Diversity & Equality Committee and am on a subcommittee addressing ways to get more natives and other minorities involved in the judiciary. I participate in Bench Bars held between the judiciary, criminal defense attorneys and prosecutors.

My legal knowledge and judicial skills are continually expanding. I attended the two-week General Jurisdiction Course and participated in all the breakout sessions with other newly appointed judges at the National Judicial College in Reno, Nevada. The course included extremely informative lectures on evidence, ethics, self-represented litigants, and judicial discretion. I attended the National Association of Women Judges' annual conference in San Francisco with four days of workshops and panel discussions in substantive and practical areas of being a judicial officer. I attended the Court sponsored New Judge training and all Judicial Conferences, and participated fully in all District Court Breakout Sessions on substantive and procedural areas common to practice in Alaska District Courts.

Alaska Judicial Council Recommendation

Judge Pamela Scott Washington, District Court, Anchorage

Judicial Council Recommendation 2012

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. The Judicial Council finds Judge Washington to be Qualified and recommends unanimously that the public vote "YES" to retain her as a district court judge.

Judicial Council Evaluation

The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers and guardians ad litem about the judges on the ballot. Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's peremptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmance and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.
