Born and raised in Alaska, I grew up around Eagle River. I graduated a proud Mustang from the Class of 1998. I was raised with Unalakleet values to work hard, do my best, and enjoy the fabric of people that make the community. I believe these are Alaskan values as well.

I left Alaska to pursue higher education but returned to raise a family and work. My family now calls the Valley home and we enjoy sports, hiking, hunting, and berry-picking.

When I worked as a guardian ad litem ("GAL") advocating for children was satisfying work. But I wanted to do more for child victims. In 2014 I came to the Palmer DA's office and started working as a prosecutor where I progressed from district court to superior court. I enjoy the jury trial process. I would be honored to serve the community in a new capacity from the bench.
