f. Possible new project

Proposal from Ms. Stanfill: In 2019 the ACJC published a report summarizing 10 years of information about sex offenses reported to law enforcement and processed through the criminal justice system (the data went through 2016). The report is here:

https://www.ajc.state.ak.us/acjc/docs/rr/sex_offenses_report.pdf.

Ms. Stanfill notes a number of recent conversations about sexual assault crimes in the legislature. Would there be the possibility of adding to the 2019 study to include data from 2017 through 2022 – which is when the change in the law to affirmative consent was made? This would create a solid 15 years of data which could then be compared to how things look when we have enough data to measure whether changes to the laws are having any effect.
