Name: Hannah Steketee

Position(s): Anchorage District Court

Date: February 6, 2026

I grew up in West Virginia and attended Marietta College for undergrad. I graduated from West Virginia University College of Law. When thinking about what I wanted to do after law school, I decided to apply for clerkships in a couple of states. Alaska was my first choice, and I was so excited to come here. I immediately fell in love with the state. I clerked for two years in the Palmer Superior Court, and then worked at the Matanuska-Susitna Borough. I soon returned to the Palmer Court as a magistrate judge. I love serving as a judge. In every case, I strive to make accurate legal rulings, while making parties feel heard and understood. I would be honored to continue to serve Alaska as a Judge of the District Court.

In my personal time, I like to quilt, or get outside to hike with my husband and baby.
